Stan Johnson, president of the local high school Boosters Club, made a special plea today to residents of these areas to help the Club in raising money to provide trophies for school athletes.

Johnson requested that residents leave their newspapers in the parkways in front of their homes and that the Boosters Club will be driving in trucks throughout the area on Saturday picking up the newspapers. He said it would be of great help if the newspapers were tied in bundles.

For answers to questions concerning types of bundles, types of old papers or what assistance can be rendered, contact Johnson at 837-1659.

Newspaper Drive Set for Saturday

The residents of Capistrano Highlands, Laguna North and Mission Viejo have the opportunity this Saturday to help themselves and to help some youngsters at Mission Viejo High School.

The Boosters Club of the local high school, under the presidency of Stan Johnson of Mission Viejo, has a newspaper drive scheduled this Saturday, after 9 a.m., in the above mentioned areas.

Trucks will be passing through these three areas all day Saturday picking up newspapers. Residents are urged to bind the newspapers together and leave them in their parkways.

Most homeowners keep old newspapers in a corner of a garage where they gather dust and cause a fire hazard. Here is an opportunity to clean up the corners and to help a worth while club.

The Mission Viejo Booster's Club--an organization established to aid the athletic program at the local high school--was established shortly after the new high school opened its doors in September of 1966. Since then the organization has proved active and helpful in its intent.

The Booster's Club has already provided the athletic department with a slide projector, a porta-pit, rebound basketball machine and a scoreboard. Proceeds from Saturday's newspaper drive will go toward trophies for some of the school's outstanding athletes.

Come this Friday night, how about father and the kids in the Capistrano Highlands, Laguna North and Mission Viejo homes getting out in the garage and bundling up some old newspapers for some well deserving youngster. Your garage will look better and you will feel better as a result.

BLUE CHIPS

By Chester Briner

Last week's column touched on sources of investment information. Corporation annual reports provide one of the best and most authoritative sources of information on the corporations issuing them. This is because the corporation is required, both by law and by regulations of the securities exchanges, to make an accurate and complete report. Disclosure of assets and liabilities and operations and earnings must be shown. The balance sheets and income statements in the reports provide a wealth of information.

Until fairly recently, the prevailing corporate policy with respect to stockholders was, "tell 'em nothing" or as little as possible. Consequently, most reports were confined to a minimum. However, in the post World War II era, corporation managements have assumed a more enlightened policy and now spend much time and effort in producing useful reports.

These reports now contain elaborate descriptions of the companies and a frank discussion of trends in the business. Descriptions of new products and developments are included. Plans for the future, charts, graphs, and other illustrative material are provided for easier analysis of the company. These things reflect a growing awareness of stockholder relations and the duty of management to let the real owners - the stockholders - know how well their company is doing.

Corporation reports are available to the prospective investor as well as the current stockholders. You may obtain them in either of two ways, quite easily. A letter to the secretary of the corporation, asking for the latest annual report will be treated promptly.

TB Tests Offered

Kindergarten children enrolled in any of four San Joaquin District schools will be offered free skin tests for tuberculosis beginning Friday, Dec. 8.

The schedule for the San Joaquin district is: Friday, Dec. 8, El Toro Marine school; Monday, Dec. 11, Ralph A. Gates school; and Tuesday, Dec. 12, Olivewood and University Park schools.

UCI To Install Reactor

A $395,604 contract has been awarded to Gulf General Atomic of San Diego for the installation of a TRIGA Mark I nuclear reactor at the University of California, Irvine.

Dr. F. S. Rowland, chairman of the UCI department of chemistry, said it is the first reactor to be installed principally for use in "hot atom" chemistry research, and the first to be installed for any purpose in Orange County. It is the second "pulsing" reactor at a university campus in California. The other, a TRIGA Mark III, is located at UC Berkeley.

Coulson Tough, campus architect, said installation of the device will begin in the near future in the basement of the new $9 million Physical Sciences Building which is under construction on the UCI campus. Both the reactor and the building are scheduled for completion early in 1969.

Mouth Breathing May Save A Life

Some day you may find yourself in the distressing position of being able to save the life of someone who has stopped breathing, by temporarily taking over the job for him, and not know how.

"In many cases, immediate mouth-to-mouth breathing may save a life," says the American Heart Association in a new free leaflet titled "To Save a Life - Breathing for Others." The leaflet was published because of the Heart Association's concern that more individuals should be prepared for proper action in an emergency, and explains the "simple first aid measure which anyone can learn to perform."

Harritt Jr. Wins Golf Club Trophy

Bob Harritt, Jr., son of the assistant pro at Mission Viejo Golf Course, won the Mission Viejo Men's Club President's Cup tournament recently, defeating Bob Minnier, golf coach at Mission Viejo High School, 4 and 3.

The two had been the top qualifiers in the eight-player scratch-handicap President's Flight, but the order was reversed then with Minnier getting a 76 and Harritt a 77.

The chance to save a life could happen at the office, on the street, or at home with a loved one. A person who has stopped breathing because of an accident or illness cannot live more than 4 to 6 minutes without oxygen, the leaflet notes. The precious breath you breathe into his lungs could keep the victim alive until medical help arrives.

The leaflet is available to all residents of this county through your Orange County Heart Association.

All the little animals, medium size animals and the large animals in the greater El Toro-Laguna Hills and Mission Viejo areas can rest more easily these days and nights since they have modern, professional medical help and facilities close by if the need comes their way.

"El Toro Animal Hospital" opened its modern and new doors at 23162 El Toro Road, El Toro. Owner of the new, modern medical plant for pets is William R. Manclark, D.V.M. Dr. Manclark shares the hospital's responsibilities with Dr. Robert F. Hunt, and a staff of trained assistants.

Dr. Manclark today said "the hospital is equipped, staffed and trained to take care of animals from the size of birds to that of horses."

Statistics of the animal hospital include 4,000 square feet; gas air conditioned and heated; each pet has a separate cage with adjoining ten foot run; fully equipped hospital including an operating room and board and grooming facilities.

Dr. William R. Manclark, owner
El Toro Animal Hospital

Added to all this is kind and efficient care for the patient.

Manclark is a graduate of the University of California, School of Veterinary Medicine, Davis, class of 1956.

Before coming to El Toro, Dr. Manclark owned and operated, for the previous ten years, the Highlander Veterinary Clinic in Laguna Beach. Both of these hospitals he recently leased so he can devote full time to the El Toro Animal Hospital.

Dr. Manclark presently resides with his wife, Darleen, and three children in San Clemente. Children include William Michael, age 3; Kirk Stewart, 1 1/2 years and Heather Dawn, 6 months.

P.S.: There is a separate room for cats at the new El Toro Animal Hospital located at 23162 El Toro Road. (This space sponsored by the Toro Disposal Service, Charles Waltman, owner).

Phoenecian Vases, Lamps On Exhibit at Irvine

An interest in the ancient world shared by one modern California family is demonstrated at an exhibit currently in the main foyer of the University of California, Irvine Library.

Mrs. George Glass of Los Angeles and son Stephen Glass of Pitzer College, Claremont, have loaned Greek, Phoenecian, and Roman vases, lamps and dishes dating from the seventh century

B.C. to the third century A.D.

Another son of Mrs. Glass, Barry, is a classics student at Irvine.

The display, which will last until mid-December and which includes books and maps, is designed to present graphically some aspects of the study of classics.

Also on view are ancient coins with enlarged photographs of their faces, belonging to Theodore Brunner, a UCI assistant professor of classics.

Arrangements for the display were made by Maryll I. Lenkey, lecturer in classics and professional librarian who is in charge of UCI Library exhibits.

HS Board Meets

The Tustin Union High School District board meeting of November 27th, according to Chet Briner, Mission Viejo Board Member, was pretty much routine except for the dress code which was once more discussed.

Several parents, whose daughters had violated the dress code appeared before the board.

Briner said today that the board is continuing to review the dress code and enforce it as it now stands.

Hal Balmer, President of the board asked Superintendent Robert Dahlberg to give a report at the December 11 meeting of the number of dress code violations up to that date.

The board also gave tentative approval to the El Toro Little League for use of a section of the El Toro school site for the purpose of two baseball diamonds. Final approval will come with formal application of the El Toro Little League.

Holidays abound with special customs -- certain habits and observances characteristic of the day and season. A unique and especially rewarding Christmas custom has come to be the use of Christmas Seals.

The Christmas Seal campaign, which is now in progress in Orange County, is a twentieth century tradition, which has already become an important part of the Christmastime heritage.

How this particular Christmas custom was born makes a true story that seems almost fictional. In 1907 a young clubwoman in Wilmington, Delaware, designed and sold the first American

Christmas Seal because $300 was desperately needed for some penniless consumptives in an open-air shack. She even had to borrow the money to have the Seals printed.

SANTAS SLEIGH BRINGS BOOKS to the Olivewood School Bookfair on December 6, 7 and 8. Pictured here are Mark Kennedy, Kris Korhonen, and David Hatfield, all students at Olivewood. More than 600 books will be on display from 4 to 8 p.m.

Aqua Candles, Decorations Dorn Auxiliary Brunch

Aqua candles surrounded with silver flowers and tree decorations helped set the holiday mood for the Woman's Auxiliary to the Orange County Medical Association at the December 5th, 9:30 a.m. brunch.

The UCI Chamber Music Singers presented a program of Christmas music. During brunch furs and frills were modeled by Robinson's.

Exquisite paper mache wisemen, executed by a friend of Hospitality Chairman Mrs. Warren Kramer, graced the head table, at which sat President Mrs. William Wickett and the Auxiliary's guests. Mrs. Wickett had the honor of introducing Mrs. William Flood, State President, who spoke on the importance of the American Medical Association Education and Research Foundation. This Foundation supports the Institute of Biomedical Research, provided financial assistance to students beginning or continuing their medical education and provides funds to medical schools.

The Orange County Auxiliary supports this Foundation with the Christmas Card project. In lieu of doctors mailing greetings to individual medical friends, they contribute to the Education and Research Foundation and their name is placed on a Christmas card which is sent to every physician in the county. Each donor may designate that his contribution be sent to a medical school or research project. Chairman Mrs. Wallace Gerrie introduced fellow member, Beth Koch, a leading Orange County photographer, whose reprint of an original photograph will grace the cover of the Christmas card. Three birds in flight with the sun in the background were the subject for this duo-tone.

$1 Million Recorded For Estate Sales

Approximately $1 million in real estate sales were recorded during a 90 minute period recently at the Swartz-Linkletter Company, Ltd. development, Village Two on Irvine Ranch.

In making the announcement, the firm's director of marketing, A. P. Lench, said homebuyers began arriving in the afternoon to assure themselves a top priority. According to Lench, many spent the night camping in the sales office.

"Long lines of homebuyers had formed outside the sales office by 7:30 a.m.," Lench said. "Within one and a half hours after we opened the doors, we had sold 32 homes."

He said the company, when opening a new unit of homesites, offers choice locations and the firm's six imaginative floor plans on a "first come, first served basis."

Styled in Spanish, Mediterranean and rustic architecture, the homes feature bold tile entires, glass-enclosed or among arbors. All models have a fireplace, and other new features include a master bedroom overlooking the living room, a two-story living room with access provided by a floating stairway, built-in walnut buffets, private balconies, covered porches and a large, 16x25 foot bonus room.

The park homes, designed to meet the needs of growing families, are priced from $21,995 to $29,995, and may be reached by taking the Sant Ana Freeway to the Culver Road turnoff and taking Culver Road west to the new models.

"Three Faces of Stanley" Added to Cancer Library

An important new addition to the film library of the Orange County Branch of the American Cancer Society has been announced today by Edgar B. Stewart, M.D. member of the Board of Directors.

The new film, "The Three Faces of Stanley," deals with what is often thought of as a "delicate" subject, cancer of the colon and rectum, according to Dr. Stewart.

Cancer of the colon and rectum is the second leading cause of cancer deaths. It is estimated that its 1967 toll will be 44,000.

"Many thousands of these deaths could be prevented if the cancer is detected early by means of a proctoscopic examination," Dr. Stewart explained.

"It's entirely suitable for showing to either mixed audiences or separate groups of men or women," said Dr. Stewart. "Because of its short length it's also well suited to luncheon club meetings," he added.

Any club, organization or group interested in having the film shown for them may contact the Orange County Branch of the American Cancer Society at 838-0510.

The film, a 10 minute animated color cartoon helps to clear up common misconceptions about the proctoscopic exam.

The Ralph Gates Parent-Teacher Organization Board Members include Mrs. Louise Elwell, principal; Connie Kelly, president; Carol Miller, 1st Vice President; Royce Solbert, 2nd Vice President; Marilyn Elliott, secretary; Carolyn O'Neill, treasurer, and Karen McCurley, membership chairman.

Other officers of the Gates PTO organization include Carol Dobbs, hospitality chairman; Joan Dobbie, health and welfare chairman; Elaine Smith, telephone chairman; Kitty Tucker, publicity chairman and Yvonne Bidart, teachers assistance committee.

School Aids Staff

The Teacher Assistance Committee of the Ralph Gates PTO recently completed several projects of typing and assembling booklets and pamphlets for use of the local teacher in the classroom.

Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Yvonne Bidart. Other committee women include Mrs. Fred Marlowe, Mrs. Carolyn O'Neill and Betty Santro.

Kiwanis Meets For First Time

First organizational meeting of a new Kiwanis unit - yet unnamed - was held last week at the new Mission Viejo Inn. Bill Wells, temporary chairman, conducted the meeting.

Nine members, including Wells, are transferring from the Saddleback Kiwanis to the Mission Viejo unit. Meetings are scheduled weekly on Tuesdays at the Mission Viejo Inn at 7:15 a.m. Wells is branch manager of the United California Bank in Mission Viejo.

Saddleback JC to Hire Key Personnel

By Carl E. Venstrom
Editor and Publisher

The Board of Trustees of the new Saddleback JC District gave approval last week, at its regular scheduled Monday night meeting, of an administrative organizational chart which will give the district working guidelines from now until June, 1968, when the chart will be reviewed.

Approval of the chart gives the go-ahead for Superintendent Jack S. Roper and Dean of Instruction Dr. Fred H. Bremer to hire certain key, administrative personnel.

Approval was given for the hiring of a director of college and community relations; associate dean of student personnel and a head librarian.

The chart also gives approval of the hiring of a chairman, division of language and fine arts; chairman, division of social science; chairman, division of health, physical education and athletics; a chairman division of science, mathematics, engineering and technology and a chairman, division of business science.

These division chairman will be paid an additional $1,000 to their teaching contract.

A teaching salary schedule for the JC staff was adopted at last week's meeting and covers the year 1967-68 and the year 1968-69. A $7200 minimum is scheduled for the teacher with a B.A. and a valid teaching credential to a maximum of $14,475. for the JC instructor with the doctorate degree plus being on the 4th step of the experience ladder.

Board member Patrick J. Backus presented a brief report on an athletic program and will, at the next board meeting, make a recommendation on the advisability of having an athletic program during the first year of operation of the local junior college.

A site proposal for the JC was made by the Mission Viejo Co. at last week's meeting. Roy N. Barletta, business manager for the district, today said that the board is expecting several other proposals from large land owners in the area.

Barletta also said that a master plan architect will be selected within the next three months. Applications are presently being taken by the JC district and Barletta said that preference will be given to Orange County firms.

Board of trustees for the Saddleback Junior College District include Alyn M. Brannon, area one; Hans Vogel, President, area two; Louis J. Zitnik, clerk, area three; Patrick J. Backus, area four and Michael T. Collins, vice president from area five.

Teens Arrest For Drugs Soar to 4,527

Teen-age arrests for the use of marijuana and dangerous drugs for the first half of 1967 soared to an unprecedented high, according to Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch.

The total percent change in arrests over the first half of this and last year was 167. Marijuana arrests of juveniles this year numbered 4,527 as compared to 1,606 for first half of 1966. Dangerous drug arrests increased from 466 to 881, and heroin and other narcotics from 15 to 43.

Lynch said that while the arrest increase reflects a continues and accelerated vigilance on the part of California enforcement agencies, it also reflects an "appalling" increase in the use of drugs for persons under the age of 18.

Authors Hall, Woods, Named Writers-in-Residence at UC

Two authors, novelist Oakley Hall and poet John Woods, have been named writers-in-residence at the University of California, Irvine for the 1967-68 year.

Their appointment follows a policy of bringing visiting writers each year to the staff of The Writing Center of UCI's Department of English and Comparative Literature, according to Professor Hazard Adams, department chairman.

Hall and Woods will teach classes in their specialties--the writing of fiction and poetry--and will work with graduate students enrolled in the Center's master of fine arts program in creative writing.

Hall is the author of six novels, including "Warlock" (1958), which was made into a movie by 20th Century Fox, and a pair of novels to be produced as films by Hollywood studios this year: "The Downhill Racers" (1963) and his latest book, "The Pleasure Garden" (1966).

His other novels are "So Many Doors" (1950), "Corpus of Joe Bailey" (1953) and "Mardios Beach" (1955); several of his short stories will appear in new anthologies.

He has previously taught in writers workshops at Antioch College and the University of Iowa, and at the Pacific Coast Writers Conference.

At present Hall is working on a spy novel he characterizes as a "didactic" mystery, which takes a hard look at some methods of American secret intelligence.

Woods comes to Irvine from Kalamazoo, Michigan, where he has been professor of English at Western Michigan University since 1955.

His poems have appeared in numerous journals and anthologies, and he has published three books of poetry: "The Deaths at Paragon, Indiana"

(1955), "On The Morning of Color" (1961) and "The Cutting Edge" (1966).

Previously, he served as poetry editor for Indiana University Press and Western Michigan University Aural Press.
